PRE-PURCHASE EXAM

Conflict of Interest Agreement

Both the seller and the potential buyer of this horse are clients of Horizon Equine Veterinary Clinic. Our veterinarians and staff always follow the highest professional standards, but this places our veterinarians in a conflict of interest.

For a pre-purchase exam, the veterinarian works for the potential buyer, and Horizon Equine is required to disclose all findings to the buyer, even if they are to the seller's disadvantage.

To proceed, both parties must agree to the following:

1. The seller agrees to release all past medical records for this horse on file with Horizon Equine to the buyer.
2. The buyer agrees to release all exam results, recommendations and reports from this exam to the seller.

Both the seller and the potential buyer must sign this form. It must be returned to Horizon Equine before the scheduled exam, along with these completed forms:

- Seller's History & Information Release – completed by the seller
- Exam Request – Buyer – completed by the buyer
